

This second floor level apartment was built as part of a development of three apartments and an internal double garage. The apartment is accessed from a paved courtyard and a staircase. The apartment complex was newly built in 2005 on the site of former workshops which had previously belonged to J.W.Wilkinson & Co. (manufacturers of woollen horse blankets - an original sign exists on the main house across the courtyard) The 'Warehouse' apartments are located across a paved courtyard from the main house 'New Inn House' and situated in Yard 94. The yard is accessed down a cobbled street (partly served with a paved pavement) from 'Highgate', one of the main streets in Kendal.
